HALL NEWS

Many of you would have seen the photos in the front foyer of the Hall. They portray steps in the process of the construction of the Hall, as well as other photos of historical interest. We have on many occasions received favourable comments about the photos from people who hire the Hall, expressing an interest in the history of the area.

We are keen to extend this bit of history of Cherry Gardens, so if anyone has any photos they think would be of interest, and that they would be happy to have hanging in the Hall, we would be pleased to hear from you. We will scan the photos, arrange to have them framed and return the original to you. We continue to make progress toward our target to replace the Hall roof. I mentioned in the previous issue that the Blackwood Lions Club has generously donated $5,000. They have also given us the opportunity to provide labour on Saturday mornings at the Bargain Centre on Shepherds Hill Road at Eden Hills. This offer is made to non-profit groups to assist their fundraising, and over June and July we will receive around $1,400 for providing this assistance.

The Bargain Centre is a treasure trove of every imaginable item, and I would encourage people to pay a visit (Saturdays from 8:30am to 12:30pm). Of course if you have any saleable unwanted items the Lions would be pleased to receive them. Items can be dropped off during the above hours, or collection can be arranged by telephoning the Bargain Centre on 8370 2144.

Some Cherry Chatters did not include the insert regarding the Sheet of Iron Project last month. Our apologies for that, and for those people it should be included with this issue. If you require an insert, please contact me on the number below and I will arrange to get one to you.

Thank You,

Bill Semple, Hall President, 0433 656 803

OVER THE STABLE DOOR - with HAMISH

Well we are into winter now, so all spraying of broadleaf and cleaning up of paddocks should be under control. Perhaps it is a good time to look at bushfire prevention and control procedures and making sure you have your bushfire action plan in place. Have a store of bushfire-sensible clothes, spare water buckets etc in an accessible place. Also spare horse gear, halters medical items and a written ID for all horses on your property. It's a good idea to start now with a list of all items which you think you may need, so you can add to it as time goes on. Discuss your plan with neighbours. Perhaps you can pool resources when and if it comes to evacuating horses and people.

Let's continue to look at our training methods with our equines. Most of us would like to have a horse which behaves well, responds to our lightest signal and maintains his way of going until we tell him otherwise. Our horse will tell us soon enough when there are some gaps in our training. Some of the things which are 'tips of the iceberg' may include barging when being led, problems with float loading and rushing off, pulling back, head tossing. Further down the line he may buck, rear, kick, attack, spin, bolt to mention a few. There are 3 main criteria which we can look at to assess our steed. The first one is does he offer a single step when requested? The second is does he offer this response immediately and lightly and lastly does he maintain that response until asked otherwise.

All of these qualities can be assessed in hand. For example when you ask him to go forward from a light pressure on the lead rope, is it immediate and light? Usually if he has any problems, this response will both be delayed and heavy. Remember when you ask, that it must be from the pressure alone, not from seeing you walk forward first. Once he is walking, does he maintain his speed beside you, or does he rush or have to be dragged? Remember timing is crucial. Apply a light pressure first, followed immediately by a heavier/ faster pressure if needed. As soon as he gives you the right response, reduce the pressure straight away. It usually takes 3 to 5 repetitions before you will see an improvement. Once you do, then change the activity to give his brain a rest, then do another 2 sets of repetitions. None of this is set in concrete, and will need to be revisited from time to time, but if you are consistent and prompt with your timing of application and removal of pressure, you should see an improvement in his responses.

Most problem behaviours will have both acceleration and deceleration issues. When he speeds up, slow him down and when he is slow, ask him to go forward. Always aiming for an end result of getting him to respond to the lightest of signals. This is why we ask with a light signal first, followed immediately by a heavier/ faster signal. Because the horse is so good at anticipating, he will anticipate the stronger aid after the light one is applied, so eventually will respond to the light one alone. Hope this is not too technical for everyone, please ask me questions via The Chatter if it is all too much.

Back to my paddock now.

p.s. I am slim and trim and the moment due to having my grazing restricted, so all is well!
